

THINGS3D VR GAMES | PRIVACY POLICY

This privacy policy governs the collection, storage, use of personal information collected by us, Things3D Ltd, the publisher of Virtual Reality Games "VR GAMES" (including, but not limited to Radial-G: Proteus). It provides details about the personal information that we collect from you, how we use your personal information, your rights regarding the personal information that we hold about you. Please read this privacy policy carefully – by playing our VR Games you confirm that you have read, understood, agree to this privacy policy in its entirety.

What personal data is stored?

So that you can play our VR GAMES and we are able to update and improve our VR GAMES, we collect the following data about you: identification data (Avatar, nickname or UserID under which you are registered, etc.); technical data (data about your device etc.); data concerning your use of our VR GAMES (when and how and how successfully you play the VR GAMES). We only use the personal data for the two below-specified purposes: to enable the functioning of our VR GAMES and to create statistics contributing to the improvement of the VR GAMES. Firstly, we need your personal data described above (identification data, technical data and game use data) so that the VR GAMES are functional, including leaderboards etc. The reason for such processing is based on the necessity to fulfil the agreement between you and us. Some of your personal data we need to process for our statistical purposes. These include either purely technical data (i.e. information not containing any personal data at all) or the other above-described data in pseudonymized form, that is, highly confidential data to which we assign a special number so that nobody except for us is able to match the data to the existing identifier using the given number. This processing is based on our legitimate interest which is the continuous improvement of our VR GAMES. You have the right to object to this processing in the manner described below.

How will you process my personal data?

With regards with the data needed as described above, we process the information (especially statistics) in aggregated (non-identifiable) form as much as possible and where this is not possible, we are going to process the information in pseudonymized form as much as possible.

Is consent required for the processing?

We do not need your consent because for all the forms of processing we have legitimate reasons (because this is necessary for fulfilment of agreement or it is in our legitimate interest).

For how long will you process my personal data?

Only for the time for which you play our VR GAMES and at the maximum until you delete your account on your Oculus headset. As most of the data is kept in the aggregate form only (when you cannot be identified) and only for as long as necessary.

Do I have to give my personal data to you? Do you have to process them?

If you want to play our VR GAMES, we need the said personal data so that we can enable you to play. Unfortunately, this is not possible without your personal data.

To whom do you transfer my personal data?

We have the personal data in our possession for the whole time. To some partners, we only provide aggregated statistics (not personal data).

Apart from us, however, your personal data are also processed by the platforms through which you have purchased our game: Oculus. Depending on which of our VR GAMES you are using your personal data may also be processed by a third party game engine, which ensures the creation and management of statistics concerning our VR GAMES as mentioned above. These game engines include (but are not limited by) the following ; Unity (owned by Unity Technologies) whose privacy policy is available at <https://unity3d.com/legal/privacy-policy>, or Unreal (owned by Epic Games) whose Privacy Policy is available at <https://www.epicgames.com/site/en-US/privacypolicy>

What rights do I have?Right to access

You have the right to access the processed personal data concerning you. We will provide this data to you free of charge on the basis of your request sent to the above-given postal address or by e-mail to privacy@things3d.com. Only where any costs arise in connection with your request, we will have to ask you to pay the necessary costs for their provision.

Right to rectification

We only need to process your accurate personal data. You have the right to the rectification of your personal data which are processed incorrectly.

Right to erasure

Under any circumstances you have the right to demand that we erase your personal data. However, this is not always possible. If you think that your personal data are no longer needed for the purpose for which they have been processed; if you believe that your personal data are processed by Things3D illegally; or if Things3D process personal data of a child without any parental consent given for such processing, you may demand that we erase your personal data. However, it is not always possible to erase the personal data provided by you for instance because of the fact that if we erased them, you would no longer be able to play our VR GAMES.

Right to data portability

Another right you may assert is the right to data portability based on which we will hand over the personal data provided by you in a commonly used, structured and machine-readable format or if you require, we will transfer them to another controller of your own choice, where such transfer is technically feasible.

Right to restriction of processing

If you believe that your personal data processed by Things3D are incorrect, you have the right to demand that we restrict the processing of your personal data for a period necessary to verify the accuracy of your personal data and to rectify them if needed. You also have this right if the processing of your personal data is illegal but you do not wish for your personal data to be erased; if Things3D no longer needs your personal data for the above-specified processing purposes but you demand that your personal data are preserved for the purposes of the determination, exercise or defence of your legal claims.

Right to object to processing on the basis of legitimate interest

With regard to the fact that some of your personal data we process on the basis of our legitimate interest, you have the right to object to this processing. Based on the objection we will consider whether it really is in our interest to process your personal data for the given purpose. If we conclude that we do not have any significant legitimate reasons that prevail over your interests, rights or freedoms, we will terminate the processing of and destroy such personal data. However, it needs to be stressed that such objection should be well-founded. Therefore, we recommend you to firstly obtain all the necessary information at the above-mentioned email address.

Right to complain

If you find all the above-specified rights insufficient or if your opinion is that Things3D in any way infringes upon your rights, you have the right to file a complaint with a supervisory body or a court.
